FOREWORD FROM THE AUDITOR-GENERAL

The amendments to the Public Audit Act that became effective on 1 April 2019 gave my office and me a mandate that goes beyond auditing and reporting. Our new enforcement mandate allowed us to expand our participation in the accountability processes of government – not to take over the legislated responsibilities of accounting officers and authorities, executive authorities and public bodies with investigative and enforcement mandates, but rather to be a complementary mechanism in this process.

One of the amendments to the Public Audit Act requires me to account at least annually for all remedial actions and certificates of debt that I issued and for the referrals that I made of material irregularities (MIs) to public bodies for investigation. I decided to not only account for the use of these powers but also report transparently on how the MI process was implemented, the MIs identified and their status as well as the successes we had and challenges we experienced.

In this third detailed report on MIs, we focus on MIs in national and provincial government and their status by 30 September 2022.

The report includes a wealth of information on the irregularities that we identified through our audits and their impact on auditees. It also transparently reports on what accounting officers and authorities have done or are doing to recover financial losses, prevent further losses and ensure there are consequences for the officials involved. Some have been successful in this regard while others have not taken appropriate action and are exposing their department or public entity to continued loss, misuse and harm.

We are fully committed to implement the enhanced powers given to our office – without fear, favour or prejudice. If accounting officers and authorities, supported by their political leadership, fulfil their legislated responsibilities and commit to taking swift action when we notify them of an MI, there is no need for us to use our remedial and referral powers or to issue a certificate of debt. Yet we do not hesitate to use these powers when accounting officers or authorities do not deal with MIs with the required seriousness. In this report, I account for the instances where I took remedial action and made referrals as well as where I included recommendations in the audit reports of these auditees.

I am pleased with the impact we are making through the implementation of this expanded mandate. This was demonstrated through the increased attention given to our audit process and outcomes, action being taken to address our findings and, in some cases, prevention and recovery of financial loss.

As an office, we are committed to play our part through our enforcement mandate to instil a culture of performance, accountability, transparency and integrity in national and provincial government, which will result in a better life for the people of South Africa.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

We commenced in April 2019 with a phased implementation of the MI process and the expanded powers provided through the amendment to the PAA. This implementation approach provided us with the opportunity to build our capacity, develop and institutionalise appropriate processes and create awareness and understanding of this new accountability tool in the public sector.

In 2019, we implemented at 16 department and public entities and only partly implemented the MI definition. In the recent 2021-22 PFMA audit cycle, we implemented the full MI definition and process at 202 auditees, thereby further increasing the reach of our expanded mandate in national and provincial government.

In this third report on the status of MIs, our focus is on national and provincial government – a report on local government MIs is planned for 2023 to coincide with the tabling of the local government general report.

By 31 August 2022, we had notified accounting officers and authorities of 179 MIs. Most of the MIs identified were caused by non-compliance and suspected fraud which resulted in, or are likely to result in, material financial loss. We estimate the total financial loss of these MIs to be R12 billion. Unfair, uncompetitive and uneconomical procurement processes as well as payments made for goods and services not received are the areas where the most money is being lost. The lack of prudence in spending is also evident in money being spent with little/no value received and the interest and penalties being paid as result of late payments – including to Sars.

These are matters that we have been reporting on for many years, but through the MI process, we are now seeing a change in how accounting officers and authorities respond to what we elevate to them as MIs. The culture of inaction is starting to shift towards improved responsiveness.

A change in behaviour and culture at all our auditees is a great ambition and we embarked on this MI journey knowing that it would take time to achieve this outcome. In this report, we celebrate the successes achieved but also acknowledge the stumbling blocks causing delays and frustrations.

The successes achieved through accounting officers and authorities taking action when we notified them of the MIs or in response to us using our new powers of recommendation and remedial actions are:

- Financial losses being prevented from taking place and losses already recovered or in the process of recovery
- Consequences for the officials responsible (through disciplinary processes) and where applicable for the suppliers involved
- Fraud and criminal investigations undertaken
- Internal controls being improved to prevent recurrence

We want to see swift actions to resolve MIs by the accounting officers and authorities and the public bodies responsible for investigations and recovery of financial losses. The longer it takes to act, the higher the risk that money lost will not be recovered and that responsible officials and implicated suppliers will not be subjected to any consequences for their transgressions. The likelihood of continued financial loss or a repeat of the irregularities that caused the losses also increases.

The most common reasons for delays in fully resolving the MIs and inadequate financial recoveries and consequences are:

- Investigations by public bodies (e.g. the SIU and Hawks) take long to conclude.
- Suppliers are often liquidated before any recoveries can commence
- There are delays in the financial recovery processes by the State Attorney
- Instability continues to have an impact on resolving MIs. After we issued an MI notification, we often have to re-issue the notification or the progress of resolving the MI comes to a halt if the original accounting officer or authority changes
- Delays in disciplining officials responsible for MIs - either the investigation to identify the responsible officials takes too long or the disciplinary processes against implicated officials are delayed.

Complexities in legislated accountability arrangements are emerging as another reason for delays. It is one of the main reasons for the MIs of the Department of Defence (DoD) not being resolved timeously. The Defence Act does not provide for the defence secretary (who is the accounting officer of the department) to take disciplinary steps against military officials, as they fall under the command of the chief of the defence force.

We have not hesitated to use our enhanced powers where accounting officers and authorities did not deal with MIs in an appropriate and timely manner. We included recommendations in the audit reports of six auditees for MIs that were not dealt with appropriately. In addition, we issued remedial action at three auditees that did not implement the recommendations we included in their audit reports in the previous year. For most of the auditees where we had to take these steps, we witnessed renewed commitment to address the MIs. Eight MIs were referred to public bodies for further investigation.

In this journey of implementing the MI process, we will continue to sharpen and improve our processes and learn from our successes and challenges. We are heartened by the support and heightened levels of awareness and engagement that we experienced in Parliament during our briefings for the budgetary review and recommendations report process. We call on committees in Parliament and the provincial legislatures to continue to advocate for action by accounting officers and authorities and their executive authorities, while also paying attention to the problems experienced by public bodies in playing their role in the accountability ecosystem.

We trust that the insights and the detail on the active MIs in national and provincial government in this report will strengthen oversight in their important role.

SECTION

MI overview

Overview

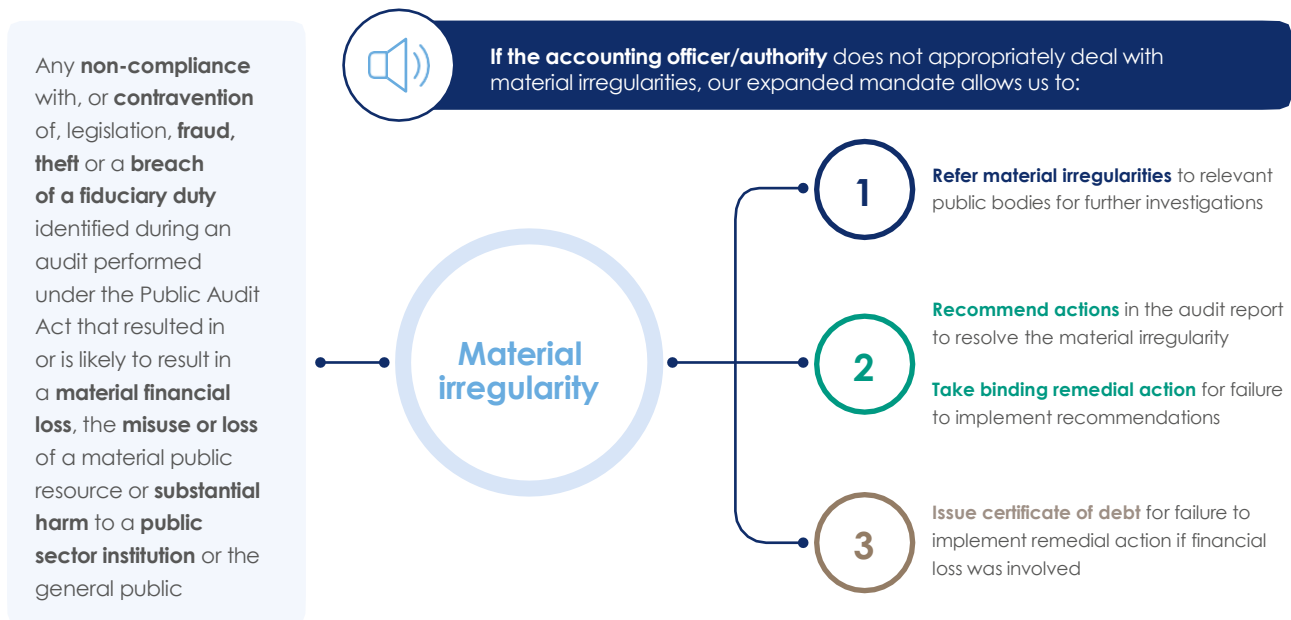

The responsibilities and duties of accounting officers and authorities are well defined in legislation, underpinned by the basic values and principles governing public administration as set out in the Constitution of the country. For many years, our audits have highlighted a systemic failure across government to establish the systems, processes and controls required to make the constitutional and legislative requirements the norm. Not only are irregularities and the resultant losses, misuse and harm not prevented from happening, but such instances are also not appropriately dealt with when they are identified.

Our mandate has always been to audit and report on these matters so that they can be corrected, but a lack of progress with preventing and dealing with the accountability failures we report on prompted the need for an expansion of our mandate.

The amendments to the Public Audit Act became effective on 1 April 2019.

Rather than being a punitive measure, the amendments are intended to act as a complementary mechanism in the broader public sector accountability value chain by strengthening financial and performance management and instilling the right behaviour to prevent MIs and ensure they are appropriately dealt with if they do occur.

Definition of material irregularity and expanded powers

The overall aim of our expanded mandate is to:

- promote better accountability
- improve the protection of resources
- enhance public sector performance and encourage an ethical culture
- ultimately, strengthen public sector institutions to better serve the people of South Africa.

We are in the fourth year of implementing the amendments. In this report, we share the MIs identified in national and provincial government by 31 August 2022 and their status at 30 September 2022.

This is the third report we publish on MI statuses – our previous report was published on 15 June 2022, which reported on the MI statuses at 15 April 2022.

In sections 2 and 3 of this report, we include the detail of MIs identified and the actions taken to resolve them by the accounting officer or authority or by using our expanded powers. The purpose of publishing these reports is to account in a transparent manner for how we have used our expanded mandate. It further provides oversight bodies, civil society organisations and the public with insight into irregularities that occurred at public sector institutions and the progress or lack of progress with addressing the resultant losses or harm caused.

Implementation

In 2021-22, we expanded our work significantly by implementing the process at 202 auditees in national and provincial government – from 95 in 2020-21.

The selected auditees included all state-owned enterprises, departments and public entities that are key contributors to government priorities. They were responsible for 91% of the estimated expenditure budget of R2,58 trillion in 2021-22. We plan a further increase in 2022-23 to 430 auditees.

Impact of the material irregularity process

There has been a shift at departments and public entities: from a slow response to our findings and recommendations over the years to attention now being paid to what we report as MIs and actions being taken to resolve these.

No actions were being taken by accounting officers and authorities to address 82% of the irregularities until we issued the MI notifications. For some of the irregularities, investigations were in process when we raised the MI, but often with little progress being made.

Where accounting officers and authorities respond to our notifications with commitment and workable plans to implement appropriate action to resolve the MI, the intended impact of the Public Audit Act amendments is achieved – the objective was to enable corrective action to resolve the MI and prevent similar ones in future.

An MI is resolved if all steps have been taken to recover financial losses or to recover from substantial harm, when further losses and harm are prevented through strengthening internal controls, when there are consequences for the transgressions (which includes disciplinary processes) and, if applicable, the matter has been handed over to a law-enforcement agency.

The impact achieved by the MI process is evident from the actions taken and changes in behaviour by the accounting officers and authorities to resolve the MIs that resulted in, or is likely to result in, financial loss.

The impact achieved through the MIs that have been fully resolved and those that are in the process of being resolved are evident in the status description of the MIs, as included in sections 2 and 3 of this report. What follows are shortened examples to demonstrate the impact – these actions were taken by the accounting officers and authorities in response to the MI process.

Examples of impact achieved

- Financial loss recovered: The KwaZulu-Natal Department of Health procured sanitiser detergent during the covid-19 pandemic at prices significantly higher than prescribed by the National Treasury at that time, resulting in a R1,3 million financial loss. The Special Investigating Unit investigated the matter and an acknowledgement of debt was signed with the supplier, resulting in R0,5 million of the loss already having been recovered.
- Financial loss recovered: The Pietersburg Hospital leased radiology equipment which was not used, resulting in an estimated loss of R3,7 million. The rooms in which the equipment had been installed were not accessible due to environmental safety concerns. To recover from the financial loss, the accounting officer of the Limpopo Department of Health renegotiated an extension of the contract, which allowed the equipment to be used for a further 12 months at no additional cost.
- Financial loss recovered: The Property Management Trading Entity made payments to a landlord for leasing properties in excess of the amount payable per the lease agreement, resulting in an estimated R11 million in overpayments. By 31 March 2022, R9,7 million had been recovered from the landlord and the remaining amount was in the process of being recovered.
- Financial loss in the process of recovery: The prices paid by the Department of Public Works and Infrastructure for three state events were higher than what had been approved during the quotation process. In response to the recommendations we made, the matter was handed over to the State Attorney for recovery of the R0,83 million overpayment to the supplier.
- Prevented financial loss, supplier contracts cancelled and disciplinary steps: The Eastern Cape Department of Human Settlements awarded three contracts for housing units to bidders that did not score the highest points in the evaluation process, resulting in higher prices being paid, as the cost of units from the appointed bidders was higher than that of the bidders scoring the highest points. On an application by the accounting officer, the High Court set two of the contracts aside, declaring them to be invalid, which prevented an estimated financial loss of R6,45 million. The accounting officer also took disciplinary steps against the officials found responsible for the non-compliance – the members of the bid adjudication committee were given a written warning for their part and the chief financial officer was dismissed (other charges were also taken into account for the dismissal).
- Prevented financial loss: The Gauteng Department of Human Settlements entered into a month-to-month contract amounting to R1,46 million per month from April 2016 for the leasing of temporary residential units instead of going with the cheaper option of purchasing them. The accounting officer cancelled the lease agreement in January 2022 and purchased the temporary residential units in June 2022.
- Prevented financial loss: The DoD imported an unregistered drug (Heberon) at a cost of approximately R260 million without approval from the South African Health Products Regulatory Authority (Sahpra). The unused vials were repatriated to Cuba, preventing an estimated financial loss of R227 million.
- Prevented financial loss: The North West Department of Health wrote off R65,64 million in patient debt without taking reasonable steps to recover the debt and first applying the requirements of its revenue and debt management policy. The accounting officer reversed the write-off, allowing for a proper process to be followed to collect the debt.
- Disciplinary processes underway: Multiple instances of non-compliance in the procurement process for locomotives in July 2012 by the Passenger Rail Agency of South Africa resulted in the contract being unfairly awarded. In response to the remedial action we instituted against the agency to implement consequence management, investigations were completed. Seven officials were charged with procurement irregularities and they are being subjected to disciplinary processes; so far, one official has been dismissed and another has resigned.
- Fraud/criminal investigations instituted: The national Department of Cooperative Governance made payments to non-qualifying government employees as part of the Community Work Programme due to ineffective internal controls for approving and processing payments. In response to the recommendations we made and an internal investigation into the matter, the accounting officer referred the matter to the Directorate for Priority Crime Investigation, also known as the Hawks, for investigation.

- Internal controls improved: The KwaZulu-Natal Department of Health awarded contracts for radiology equipment to suppliers who did not score the highest points in the evaluation process without predefined, objective criteria for such deviation. To prevent a recurrence, the department updated its standard operating procedures and bid documents for supply chain management to address the application of objective criteria; and officials attended refresher training in supply chain management prescripts.
- Internal controls improved: The Mpumalanga Economic Growth Agency impaired debts of R292,21 million without following all the required actions provided for in its debt management policy. The accounting authority capacitated the credit control unit to enable improved debt collection by appointing legal interns, a panel of legal practitioners and an external debt collector.
- Internal controls improved: The Western Cape Department of Human Settlements did not correctly apply the evaluation criteria in the National Housing Code, resulting in beneficiaries receiving housing subsidies they are not entitled to and valid beneficiaries being overpaid. The accounting officer implemented an additional review by the department's internal control function.

Nature and extent of material irregularities identified

By 31 August 2022, we had identified 179 MIs. The nature of these MIs reflects the areas in which departments and public entities are most vulnerable for loss, misuse and harm – we have highlighted the weaknesses in these areas for a number of years, including in our general and special reports.

Nature of material irregularities

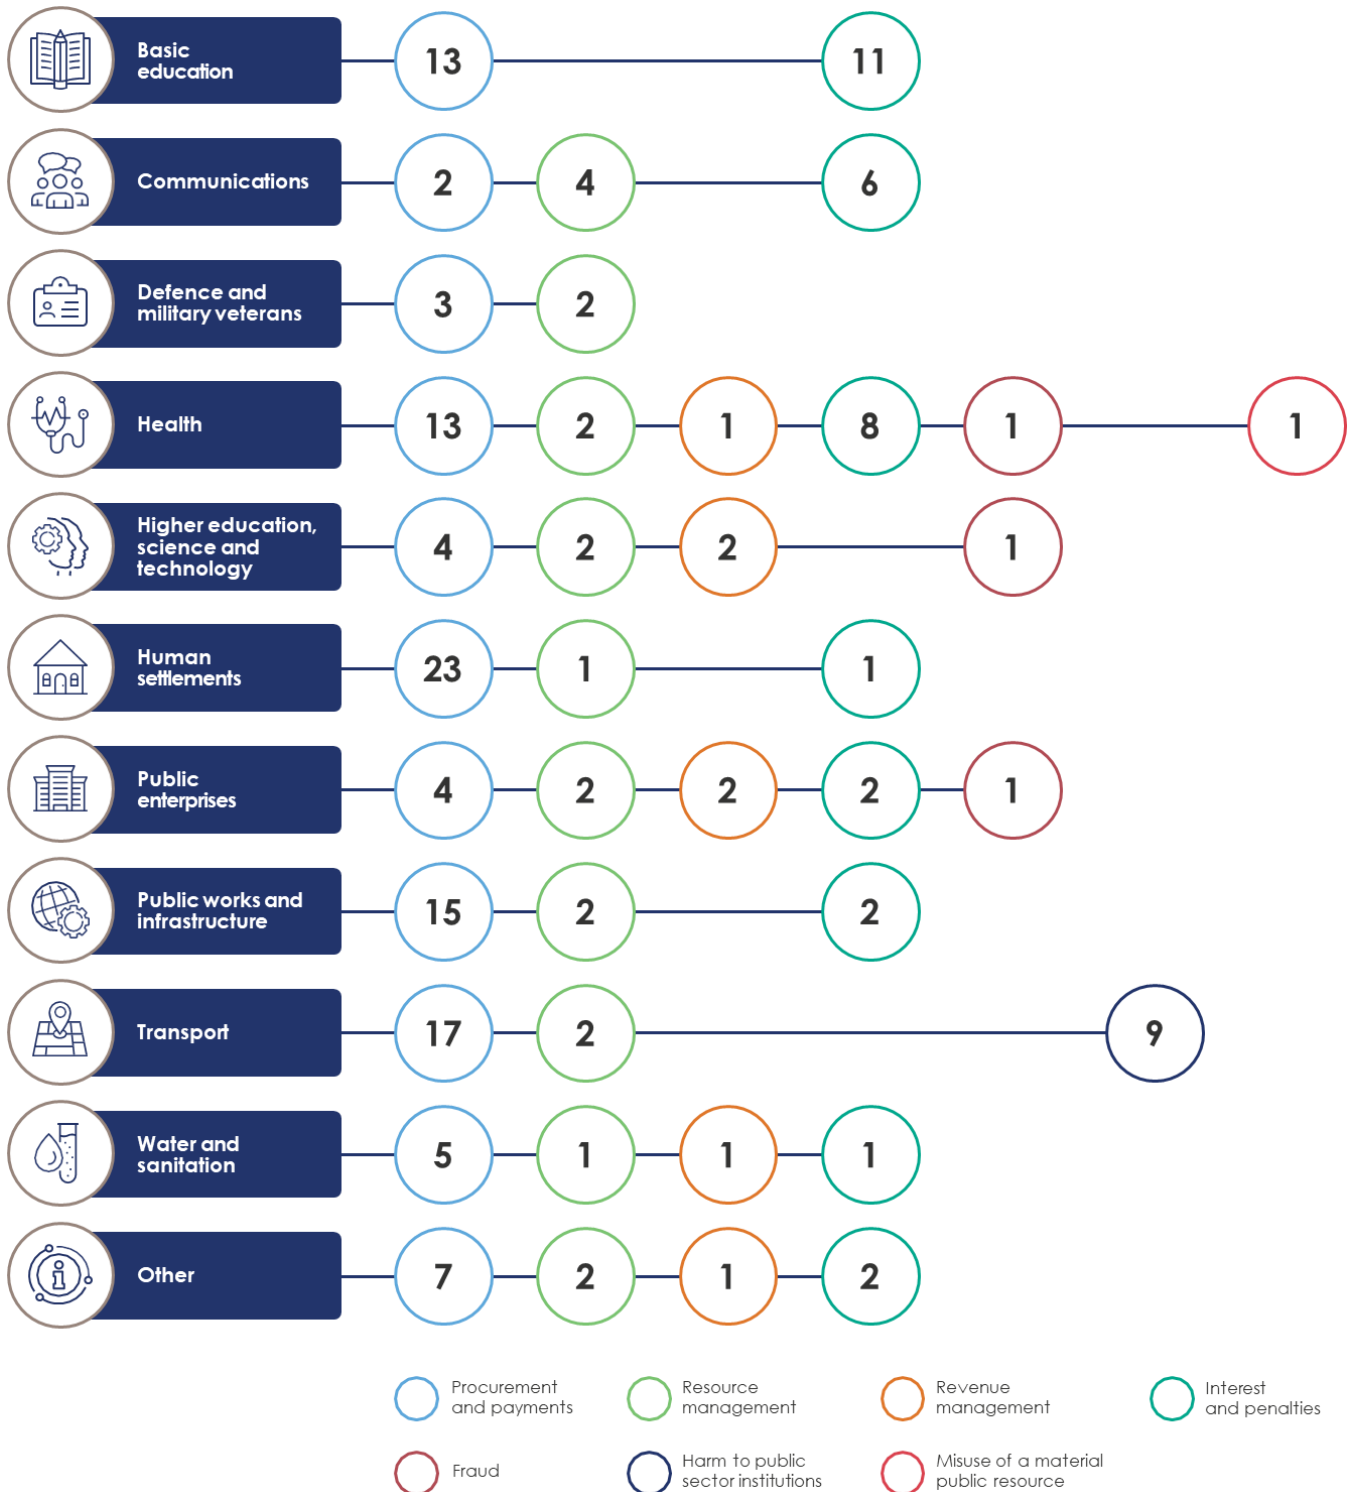

Most of the MIs identified were caused by non-compliance and suspected fraud which resulted in, or are likely to result in, a material financial loss. We estimate the total financial loss of these MIs to be R12 billion. Financial losses mean that there is less money available to deliver much-needed services to South Africans and for government to achieve its strategic priorities. Some of the MIs had a direct impact on the ability of auditees to deliver on projects and services in addition to reducing the funds available for such delivery.

We also used our expanded mandate to address the non-submission of financial statements by three public entities in the North West for the past three years, as the lack of accountability is causing significant harm to these public sector institutions. Also in North West, we issued our first MI on a material public resource (a clinic) not being utilised.

MIs are prevalent across the portfolios responsible for service delivery and key government programmes.

Nature of material irregularities in the different portfolios

A few examples of the types of MIs identified are included next. The detail on all the MIs is included in sections 2 and 3.

- The National Skills Fund entered into a project-funding agreement with an academy for a learnership programme. The fund approved and paid R3,19 million for three credits of 'additional modules' that had already been included in the original modules.
- The State Information Technology Agency entered into a contract with a service provider for assistance with a stakeholder engagement event. In April 2019, the agency made an advance payment of R1,5 million to the supplier. No services were received for the money spent.
- At the KwaZulu-Natal Department of Education, ex-employees were not promptly removed from the human resources and payroll systems. As a result, the department approved and processed salary payments of R142,49 million to people it no longer employed.
- The Department of Basic Education did not pay a contractor within the required 30 days for a construction project in the Eastern Cape, resulting in interest charges of R7 million.
- The North West Department of Human Settlements overpaid the supplier appointed to provide project management services by R2,98 million because it did not have appropriate internal controls.
- Between May 2018 and December 2018, the Department of Public Works spent more than the contract amount on state funerals, and the services paid for differed from those provided for in the contracts. We estimate the likely financial loss to be R9,1 million.
- In July 2019, Transnet advertised a tender for the leasing of equipment. The contract was not awarded to bidders who scored the highest points, resulting in a likely loss of R29,4 million.
- The Property Management Trading Entity did not follow competitive bidding processes to appoint contractors and consultants for the Beitbridge Border Infrastructure Project in March 2020. This is likely to result in material financial losses, as the entity did not secure market-related prices.
- In July 2019, the DoD awarded a contract for the supply and delivery of fuel to a supplier using different evaluation criteria from those stipulated in the original request for quotations, which specified that the contract would be awarded to the bidder with the lowest price. The mode of transport was also changed after the award, causing a further price increase. The non-compliance caused a material financial loss of R2,6 million due to the higher price being paid for fuel.
- The Free State Department of Human Settlements paid a supplier for standing time during the covid-19 lockdown period, even though it had no contractual obligation to do so.
- Construction of a magistrate's court project with an initial budget of R94,74 million was delayed by more than six years due to late site handover to contractors, delays in issuing working drawings and extension of time due to civil unrest. This resulted in overspending of R23,72 million. To date, 12 extension-of-time claims amounting to R15,88 million (654 days) have been submitted to the Property Management Trading Entity.
- According to the policy of the National Student Financial Aid Scheme, interest on student loans is supposed to be charged one year after students graduate or leave the tertiary institution. The scheme did not have up-to-date information on students' status, resulting in loan recipients being recognised as students for many years after they stopped studying without interest being charged on their loans. This non-compliance is likely to result in a material financial loss of just over R1 billion if the interest is not recovered.

Overall status of the material irregularities

Thirteen of the 179 MIs identified were resolved in previous years, which leaves us with 166 active MIs.

We only recently notified accounting officers and authorities of eight of these MIs, and by 30 September 2022, their responses were not yet due. In sections 2 and 3, we only include the detail and status of the 158 MIs regarding which we have received responses.

By 30 September 2022, we were still evaluating the responses to 34 of the newly identified MIs, hence we have not yet decided whether the accounting officer or authority is taking appropriate action to resolve the MI. In sections 2 and 3, the status of these MIs is shown as 'Follow-up or assessment in process'.

This means we have evaluated and can report on the status of 124 material irregularities and we included the detail in sections 2 and 3.

Status of remaining 124 material irregularities

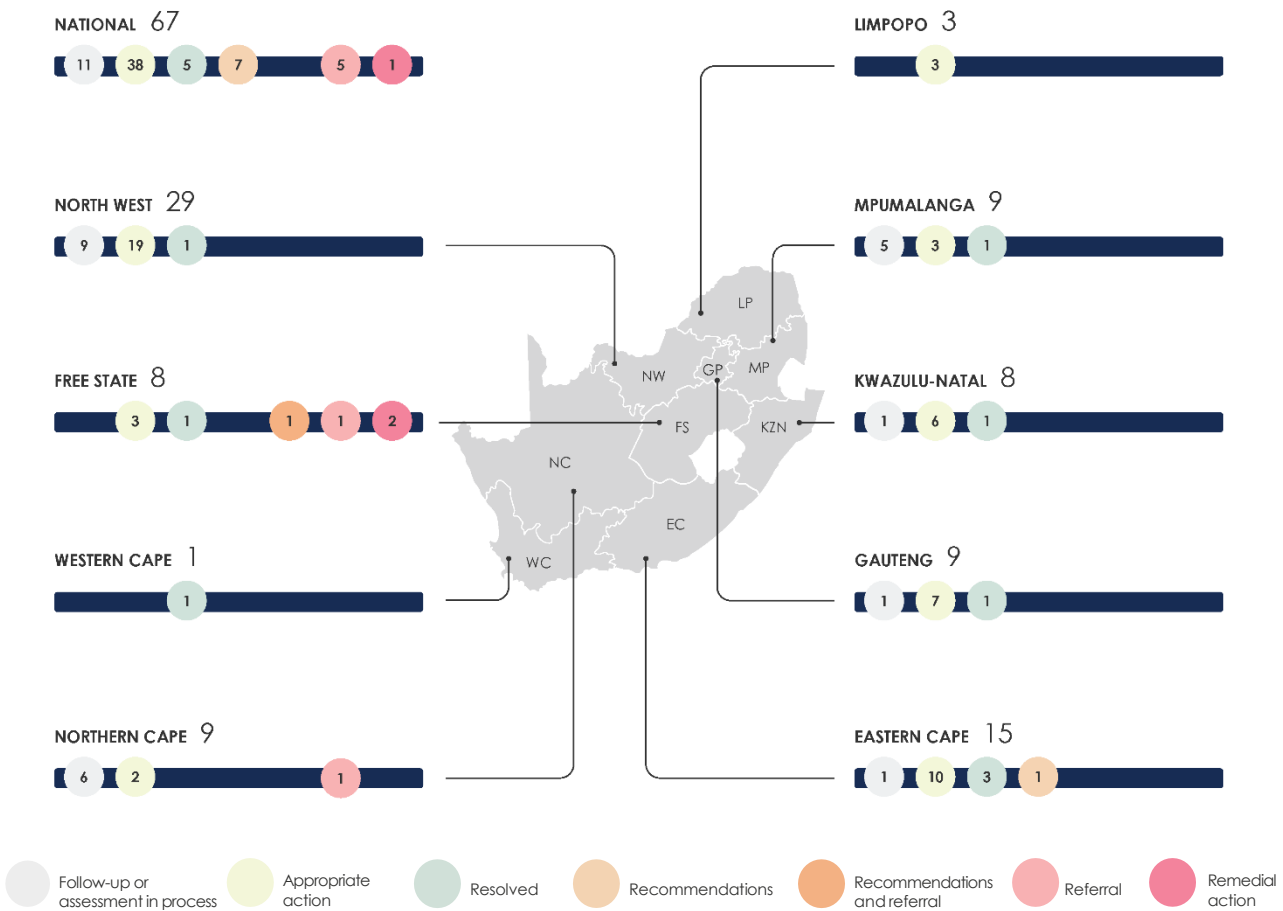

In 19 cases where accounting officers and authorities did not appropriately address the MIs we reported to them, we used our expanded mandate by including recommendations in the audit reports or the auditor-general invoked her additional powers of referral and remedial action. The departments and public entities where we took further action (as detailed in the following graphic) are also those where we typically experience a slow response to our findings and to improving the control environment.

Status of remaining MIs – national and provincial

More detail on the different statuses follows.

Status: appropriate action

Appropriate action means that we have assessed the steps being taken to resolve the MI and are comfortable that these, when fully implemented, will result in the MI being resolved.

Different MIs need different actions (and sometimes a combination of actions) to be resolved. Some MIs require financial losses to be recovered while others also require further financial losses from the MI to be prevented. Some MIs require consequences to officials identified as being responsible and others require fraud or criminal investigations and reporting of the outcome to the SAPS. The status of the key actions is provided.

MIs requiring specific actions to resolve – status

Some MIs can be resolved within a short period but some require the auditees to correct deep-rooted issues or quantify multiple years of financial loss, which will take longer to address. The average 'age' of the 91 MIs where appropriate action is being taken to resolve the MI is 19 months (from date of notification).

The ageing of MIs is influenced by delays in implementing the necessary action. Where we assessed such delays to be reasonable, we did not invoke our powers. However, the delayed resolution of MIs again highlighted the challenges in national and provincial government – some of which we describe below.

A common reason for delayed resolution is prolonged investigations or delays by public bodies, which hamper the timely recovery of financial losses, consequence management processes and criminal proceedings. In the table that follows, we provide details on MIs where appropriate action is being taken, but the resolution is not only the responsibility of the accounting officer or authority but also the public body involved in investigating the MI or recovering the financial loss. Some of the investigations only commenced recently, but there are also delayed investigations.

The speedy recovery of lost funds is often hampered by suppliers being liquidated or delays in recovery by the State Attorney.

- In 2014 and 2018, the South African Social Security Agency made payments to a service provider for services not delivered. The service provider is under liquidation, making it unlikely that the total financial loss of R391,2 million will be recovered. The slow finalisation of the liquidation process also delays processes of recovering the remaining losses from liable officials.
- During the evaluation process for a contract to service, repair and maintain equipment at health facilities, the North West Department of Health incorrectly disqualified a supplier, which resulted in higher prices being paid for the services. The official identified through an investigation as being responsible for the financial loss resigned. The accounting officer handed the matter over to the State Attorney in August 2021 for civil recovery from the official. By July 2022, no progress had been made and the accounting officer consequently withdrew the mandate from the State Attorney and appointed a legal firm to commence with recovery for the department.

Instability continues to have an impact on resolving MIs. After we issued an MI notification, we often have to re-issue the notification or the progress of resolving the MI comes to a halt if the original accounting officer or authority changes.

We notified the board of the Passenger Rail Agency of South Africa of nine MIs in 2019. The resolution of these MIs has shown little progress over the past three years as the entity has been plagued by instability at both board and key management level. After the board was disbanded, the High Court set aside the appointment of an administrator. An accounting authority functionary was then appointed as well as a new board in October 2020 to return some level of stability to the entity. However, the instability at chief executive level continued throughout this period, with the last appointee being removed from office and the position currently being filled in an acting capacity. Progress with implementing the recommendation from investigations into the MIs was only evident from May 2022.

The area in which we often see delays is in disciplining officials responsible for MIs. Either the investigation to identify the responsible officials takes too long or the disciplinary processes against implicated officials are delayed.

After we issued two MIs to the Property Management Trading Entity relating to the Beitbridge Borderline Infrastructure project, the accounting officer initiated disciplinary action against the implicated officials. The State Attorney handled the case. The first hearing scheduled for April 2021 was postponed due to the legal representative of one of the officials not attending, pending a court application for reviewing the investigations report, the directive issued by the minister and the disciplinary enquiry. A second hearing for the senior official implicated was subsequently scheduled for May 2021, during which the chairperson ruled that the court application had a bearing on the disciplinary action. The disciplinary proceedings against the three senior managers were postponed indefinitely, pending the outcome of the judicial review.

Department of Defence

Since the MI process was implemented at the DoD, we notified the Secretary of Defence (who is the accounting officer of the department) of five MIs. We referred the MIs on the unfair award for the supply of fuel (as detailed in the earlier examples) to the Hawks.

The other four MIs and their status follow:

Inventory and asset management contract not awarded to only the bidder that scored the highest points in the evaluation process

In February 2017, the department awarded the contract for inventory and asset management for a period of five years, starting on 1 March 2017. The department did not comply with the requirements of the Preferential Procurement Policy Framework Act because it did not award the entire contract to the bidder that scored the highest points in the evaluation process. The non-compliance is likely to result in a material financial loss as the contract was awarded to two bidders on a 50/50 basis at an increased price of R922 million for the same scope of work. This resulted in an increase of R250,56 million to the project cost.

The accounting officer disagreed with the notification and stated that there had not been any non-compliance in awarding the contract. The National Treasury then further investigated the matter and confirmed on 28 February 2020 that legislation had been contravened in awarding this contract. We included recommendations in the department's 2019-20 audit report, which the accounting officer was required to implement by 30 November 2020. Based on our assessment of the written response and supporting evidence submitted by the accounting officer, we concluded that the recommendations had not been adequately implemented and gave an extension until 30 April 2021 to implement those recommendations.

We concluded that the recommendations had not been implemented adequately and on 18 August 2021, the auditor-general issued a directive to the accounting officer to determine the amount of the financial loss and to recover such loss or make progress with recovering the loss from the responsible person by 18 November 2021. She also notified the accounting officer of the following remedial actions to address the MI, which should be implemented by the same date:

- Effective and appropriate disciplinary steps must be taken against any civilian official that the investigation finds to be responsible and appropriate action must be taken to determine whether any such person is liable for the losses suffered by the department for the purpose of recovery.
- Steps must be taken to ensure that the chief of the South African National Defence Force (SANDF) takes the same actions against any military command officials that the investigation finds to be responsible. If the required action is not taken, the accounting officer must promptly notify the executive authority of such failure.

The financial loss was prevented as the department spent a lesser amount than the initial contracted value.

The accounting officer and the chief of the SANDF did not implement the remedial actions for consequence management of both civilian and military command officials.

Lease payments made for unoccupied office buildings

From 2015-16 to 2019-20, the department made lease payments for unoccupied office buildings, in contravention of the Public Finance Management Act, which requires the effective, efficient, economical and transparent use of the department's financial resources. The non-compliance resulted in a financial loss of R108,3 million.

We notified the accounting officer of the MI on 11 August 2020. The accounting officer responded with planned actions to resolve the MI, which we considered appropriate. On 20 April 2021, we submitted a request for information on the progress made in addressing the MI but did not receive a response. Therefore, we concluded that appropriate action is not being taken. We included a recommendation in the 2020-21 audit report, which the accounting officer was required to implement by 11 November 2021:

- The amount of the financial loss should be determined and the officials responsible for the financial loss should be identified.
- Effective and appropriate disciplinary steps should be taken against any civilian official and military command official whom the investigation found to be responsible.
- Appropriate action must be taken to determine whether the responsible official(s) is/are liable by law for the losses suffered by the department for the purpose of recovery.

The department convened a second board of inquiry (BOI) into the circumstances that led to the MI during December 2021. In its conclusion, the BOI acknowledged the financial loss but did not find anyone liable for the loss. We assessed the outcome of the BOI and concluded that its conclusion was not appropriate and appropriate action was not taken to implement the recommendations.

Personal protective equipment not procured in a cost-effective manner

The department procured 1 000 infrared thermometers in April 2020 at prices higher than those recommended by the National Treasury.

A BOI was convened in August 2021 to investigate the MI but had to be reconvened due to the shortcomings identified regarding the first inquiry. As at the date of the audit report, a new BOI had not been convened. We concluded that appropriate action is not being taken to address the MI.

Import of unregistered drug

The department imported 970 895 vials of the unregistered drug Heberon at an estimated cost of R260,6 million from a Cuban supplier without approval from Sahpra.

Sahpra authorised the use of only 10 vials of Heberon on a single patient on 5 October 2020 and rejected the department's bulk stock application on 21 October 2020.

At the instruction of Sahpra dated 3 November 2021, the department repatriated all the drugs to the foreign supplier between January and February 2022. The accounting officer did not provide any further feedback on actions taken to resolve the MI, including the R33,5 million paid. Therefore, we concluded that the actions taken were not adequate to fully address the MI.

One of the main reasons that the MIs of the DoD are not being resolved timeously are challenges in applying the required disciplinary processes caused by complexities in the accountability arrangements as defined in legislation. The Defence Act does not provide for the defence secretary (who is the accounting officer of the department) to take disciplinary steps against military officials, as they fall under the command of the chief of the defence force.

Based on the defence secretary's investigations, she referred the matters to the chief to deal with, but the chief did not take any action and in one instance, the military BOI found that the military officials should not be held accountable. For some of the MIs the defence secretary also did not take action against the civilian officials.

The PAA requires us to keep the accounting officer responsible for resolving MIs but the provisions in the Defence Act and the current DoD structure created a conflict in the accountability framework. The auditor-general is carefully considering the next course of action regarding these MIs.

Using our expanded mandate

We are fully committed to implementing the enhanced powers given to our office – without fear, favour or prejudice. If accounting officers and authorities, supported by their political leadership, fulfil their legislated responsibilities and commit to taking swift action when we notify them of an MI, there is no need for us to use our remedial and referral powers. Yet we do not hesitate to use these powers when accounting officers or authorities do not deal with MIs with the required seriousness.

The recommendations we include in the audit reports are not the normal recommendations we provide as part of our audits but instead deal with the actions accounting officers and authorities should take to resolve a specific MI. It typically deals with the following:

- Recovery: Steps to be taken to recover financial and public resource losses or to recover from harm.
- Prevention: Steps to be taken to strengthen internal controls to prevent further losses and harm.
- Consequences: Steps to be taken to effect consequences for the transgressions, including disciplinary processes and, if applicable, handing over the matter to a law-enforcement agency.

We included recommendations on eight MIs in the audit reports of six auditees. The impact of using our powers is demonstrated by the two MIs where recommendations that were issued in the previous year were resolved during the current year.

	Interest not charged on student loan accounts	4 November 2022	4 August 2023	Recommendations not due yet

If our recommendations are not implemented, we issue remedial actions that cover the same areas of recovery, prevention and consequences. Remedial action is a binding instruction issued by the auditor-general. If the MI caused a financial loss for the state, the remedial action also includes a directive for the financial loss to be quantified and recovered.

We issued remedial actions for four MIs of three auditees. One MI where remedial action was issued the previous year was resolved.

Details on remedial action issued

Auditee	Material irregularity	Issue date	Implementation date	Status
Passenger Rail Agency of SA	Unfair procurement process followed in the appointment of a contractor for the purchase of locomotives	15 August 2021	15 December 2021	MI has been resolved

If a directive was issued for the financial loss to be quantified and recovered and it is not implemented by the stipulated date, we can move towards the certificate of debt stage. The MIs currently in the remedial action stage do not qualify to be considered for a certificate of debt.

We made referrals to public bodies for the investigation of six MIs at six auditees.

Call to action

Our expanded mandate did not change the role and responsibilities of accounting officers and authorities or the oversight and monitoring roles of executive authorities and oversight structures to prevent and deal with irregularities, such as non-compliance, fraud, theft and breaches of fiduciary duty. Through the MI process, we strengthen them in this role.

Roles and responsibilities in material irregularity process

To strengthen accountability mechanisms in the public sector

Accounting officers and authorities

Have legal obligation to prevent all irregularities and take action when they occur

AGSA

- Identify irregularities that could have significant impact on auditee's finances, resources and delivery
- Notify accounting officer/ authority so they can take appropriate steps in terms of legislation timeously
- Give space to accounting officer/ authority to take required actions to deal with material irregularities before using our additional powers

Oversight and executive authorities

Oversight and monitoring roles remain unchanged

AGSA

By reporting material irregularities, we highlight most material matters and provide information to assist oversight and monitoring roles

Success is: swift action by accounting officer/authority to resolve material irregularities and prevent recurrence

Although the accounting officers and authorities are notified of the MIs and they have the legislated responsibility to appropriately deal with the irregularities and the resultant losses, misuse and harm, the executive authorities and oversight also have a very important role to play. The responsibilities for the further steps to be taken by the accounting officer or authority, executive authorities, public bodies and oversight to resolve an identified MI are detailed below.

Responsibilities of key role players to resolve an identified material irregularity

	Accounting officer/authority (AO/AA)	Executive and oversight
 AO/AA is dealing with MI	AO/AA... implements committed actions to address MI and improves controls to prevent reoccurrence AGSA... follows up in next audit if actions were implemented and if outcomes were reasonable; if not; can result in referral or recommendation in audit report	Executive... monitors progress and supports AO/AA in addressing MI and improving controls Oversight... monitors progress and calls AO/AA to account for actions taken and outcomes
 MI is referred to public body	AO/AA... cooperates with public body and implements any remedial actions/recommendations made; improves controls to prevent reoccurrence AGSA... provides information on MI to public body, monitors progress with investigation and follows up in audits on implementation of any remedial actions/recommendations	Executive... supports public body investigation and AO/AA in improving controls; if responsible for public body, monitors progress with investigation Oversight... monitors progress with investigation and calls public body to account for undue delays in investigation
 Recommendation included in audit report	AO/AA... implements recommendations by date stipulated in audit report and improves controls to prevent reoccurrence AGSA... follows up by stipulated date if recommendations were implemented and if outcomes were reasonable; if not, issue remedial action	Executive... monitors progress and supports AO/AA in implementing recommendations and improving controls Oversight... monitors progress and calls AO/AA to account for actions taken and outcomes

We urge all role players in the national and provincial ecosystem to support, monitor and oversee the resolution of MIs. When the auditor-general's powers of referral and remedial action (and the issuing of certificates of debt in future) are invoked, it not only reflects poorly on the accounting officer or authority, but also means that the whole accountability value chain has failed, up to executive and oversight level.

In particular, we recommend that:

- portfolio committees in Parliament and provincial legislatures request quarterly reports from accounting officers and authorities on the status of their material irregularities and to account for any unreasonable delays in resolving the MIs
- portfolio committees in Parliament responsible for public bodies where there are delays in investigations as detailed earlier also request regular reports on the status of these investigations and must address any unreasonable delays in the investigations.

Detail on material irregularities

In the sections that follow, the detail of the 158 MIs is included per province (section 2) and at national level, it is presented per ministerial portfolio (section 3).

We trust the information in this report will enable Parliament and the provincial legislatures to perform their oversight role in support of the MI process. We remain committed to contribute through our enforcement mandate to a public sector culture of performance, accountability, transparency and integrity.

The financial losses relating to deceased participants have been quantified (R2,9 million) and to date, five out of eight implementing agents have signed the notification of debt in terms of the payments to deceased participants. Control improvement has been noted in that deceased participants paid in the current year have reduced from 154 instances in the 2018-19 financial year to 93; and there are no more hits in the data that related to participants being paid who have been deceased for more than a year. This is due to the controls improved to run the home affairs database against the payment batches monthly. The department has also improved the controls by consistently identifying similar instances of payments to deceased participants and deducting any payments made to such participants from the amounts due to implementing agents under a new contract when each patch payment is processed.

150.	17 July 2019	Procurement non-compliance, resulting in supplier not delivering on contract	Multiple instances of non-compliance in the procurement process for locomotives in July 2012 resulted in the contract being unfairly awarded. A prepayment of R2,6 billion was made to the supplier, but Prasa derived no value as the locomotives were not fit for purpose. The supplier applied for liquidation in December 2018, making recovery of the financial loss unlikely and resulting in R2,2 billion in debt owed by the supplier to Prasa being impaired in 2018-19.	Resolved	The 2015 investigation by the board into the procurement process of the locomotives resulted in the matter being referred to the Hawks for investigation and the contract being set aside by the court in May 2019. The second phase of the Hawks investigation into implicated officials is still in progress. The AA did not take appropriate action to identify the responsible officials and take disciplinary action. On 15 August 2021, the AG notified the AA of remedial actions that had to be implemented by 15 December 2021.
