Request for quotation details:

The Auditor General of South Africa (AGSA) issues a no-obligation request for quotation (RFQ) for the implementation of an externally managed / outsourced whistle-blowing system for a period of 12 months.

Introduction and background:

Chapter 9 of the Constitution of the Republic of South Africa, 1996 establishes the Auditor-General of South Africa as one of the state institutions supporting constitutional democracy. The Constitution recognises the importance and guarantees the independence of the Auditor-General of South Africa (AGSA), stating that the AGSA must be impartial and must exercise its powers and perform its functions without fear, favour or prejudice. The AGSA is the only institution that, by law, has to audit and report on how the government is spending the South African taxpayers' money. More information about the organization can be found at https://www.agsa.co.za

Purpose:

Section 8 of the Protected Disclosures Act, 2000 (Act No. 26 of 2000 as amended) (PDA) which came into effect on 16 February 2001, states that employees in both the private and the public sector may disclose information regarding unlawful or irregular conduct by their employers or other employees in the employ of their employers to the AGSA. The Act further provides for the protection of employees who make a disclosure under this Act.

As part of ensuring compliance to PDA and as part of enhancing the ethical culture of the AGSA, a need to have an independent hotline has been identified. This will enable the organization to have an established reporting platform for making protected disclosures easy and accessible to all levels of whistle-blowers, both internally and externally.

Response requires:

At a minimum, the terms of reference/scope of services required will include but is not limited to the following requirements:

- The service provider must manage the tool externally and adhere to highest professional service standards and ethical principles;
- The whistle blowing tool should enable reporting of cases via most communication channels that will have a reach to the broader citizens, for example, telephone, email and internet website, mobile applications, any credible means of collating information;
- The service must offer a multi-lingual platform that operates on a 24/7 basis;
- The service provider should demonstrate how they will protect the identity of whistle blowers in line with PDA;
- The service provider should disclose their affiliation with a professional body, if any
- The service provider will be required to provide the AGSA with detailed reports on a weekly basis on matters reported for trends and analysis, and a consolidation of reported cases must be submitted monthly;

- The proposed platform / tool must be able to give access to designated AGSA user(s) to view the status of logged/reported cases as and when required.

Please note that the above list of requirements is not exhaustive and the service provider is encouraged to demonstrate how it will provide the required system.

Contract Period

The recommended service provider will be required to sign a 12-month agreement with the AGSA for the services herein required, which may be renewed on an as needed basis.
